United Way of the Midlands Foundation Invests $110,000 in Ollie Webb to Create Literacy Program for High School Students

Thanks to a three-year grant from the Karnett Trust administered through the United Way of the Midlands, the First Chapter Book Club program for High School Students with I/DD, modeled after the very successful Next Chapter Book Club for adults with I/DD, was launched in three area high school in the fall of 2015. The three high schools that have had very positive results are Westside, Papillion LaVista South and Papillion La Vista. OPS will join the program this month and potentially add three more programs in the fall of 2016.

The First Chapter Book Clubs, administered by OWCI Program Coordinator Denise Gehringer, will give high school students with intellectual disabilities the same opportunities to improve their literacy and be socially engaged. Clubs are held in the community where the members participate at their own high schools. Peer mentors are members of the club and fully participate. Enrichment activates that support the book the club is reading and the supplies needed for them are provided through the generous funding from the Karnett Trust.

“This is a tremendous opportunity for us to offer a popular program for teenagers,” said Laurie Ackermann, Executive Director of Ollie Webb Center, Inc. “We know that the book clubs are improving literacy, communication skills, and preventing social isolation. All of those skills will be invaluable post-high school and will add to the quality of the lives of those who participate. We are so grateful for this grant to make this a reality.”

The photos are of the Westside First Chapter Book Club experiencing Bollywood dancing. They are reading about Calcutta in Around the World in 80 Days.
In The Moment

“We do not remember days, we remember moments.”
~Cesare Pavese

Wells Fargo has a program that encourages volunteerism. Through this program an Editor/Tech Writer has been volunteering their time to help one of our students, Taylor Schrum, edit her writing.

The editor read Taylor’s story, and made comments on how she could make the story flow better, grammar points, and character development. Taylor shared her excitement about working with an editor on her writing with many of her friends and staff. The editor volunteered 12 hours of their time to help Taylor edit her story.

Other Wells Fargo employees in the Editing/Tech Writing department may be willing to do the same for some of our other budding authors here at Ollie Webb Center, Inc.

Send your moments to Lydia Clark at lclark@olliewebbinc.org.

Guardianship is a valuable tool which can be used to protect individuals who lack the ability to make appropriate personal or financial decisions for themselves. The guardian assumes the duty of caring for the person with disabilities and/or their assets, and the court maintains oversight to reduce the risk of exploitation or abuse by the guardian.

Presenters: Knowledgeable local Attorneys will share their experiences with Guardianship and Conservatorship.

The PRISM Project is sponsored by the Arc of Omaha at Ollie Webb Center, Inc., with assistance from the United Way of the Midlands and the Nebraska Department of Education.
