The Arc of Omaha has a free Family Zoo Pass available for use by its 2019 members. It allows two adults and four children to visit the Henry Doorly Zoo. Please note the following rules for its use:

1. The pass can be used anytime the zoo is open.
2. Families may use the pass as often as they like, as long as it is available.
3. Families using the pass must sign it out, giving their name, address, phone number, date of use and date returned. If a family misuses the pass, it is possible that the pass may not be available for them to use again.
4. When families arrive at the zoo, they must present the pass and check in at the Visitors Center.

Call 402.346.5220 to reserve the Family Zoo Pass.
SIBSHOPS
(Ages 6-13)
by Amanda Clark, Program Coordinator
aclark@olliewebbinc.org

All ages (6-13) will meet from 6:30-8:30 p.m.
(includes snack).
Participants split in age groups
(6-8 and 9-13)

9 sessions $90 • 5 sessions $50
1 session $12.50
Non-Members cost: 9 sessions $125
5 sessions $60 • 1 session $15

PLEASE NOTE
For the month of November, Sibshops will meet at the Pediatric Therapy Center NOT the Community Engagement Center on Tuesday evening from 6:30-8:30 p.m.

The dates are:
November 13 • December 11, 2018
January 15 (additional dates will be added)

What are Sibshops? For the adults who plan them and the agencies that sponsor them, Sibshops are best described as opportunities for brothers and sisters of children with special health and developmental needs to obtain peer support and education within a recreational context.

Sibshops seek to provide siblings with opportunities for peer support. Because Sibshops are designed (primarily) for school-age children, peer support is provided within a lively, recreational context that emphasizes a kids’-eye-view.

Please also let us know if you have a child who has “aged out” of Sibshops (14 or older). We may be interested in utilizing them as supportive mentors/volunteers during the program.

For RSVP’s and more information email aclark@olliewebbinc.org or call 402.346.5220 ext. 31.
Disability Rights Nebraska

Inside Olmstead

Olmstead v. L.C. ex rel. Zimring

Olmstead v. L.C. is a U.S. Supreme Court case based on Title II of the Americans with Disabilities Act of 1990. In Olmstead, the Supreme Court ruled that states are required to provide services to people with disabilities in the most integrated setting appropriate to their needs.

Olmstead applies to those who are institutionalized, those who are at risk of being institutionalized, and more recently those that are segregated by services or practices of the State.

Olmstead involved two women with mental health diagnoses and intellectual disabilities. Both women had spent significant time in mental health hospitals. They wished to receive treatment in the community and a treatment professional determined they did not need to be in a hospital. The Supreme Court ruled that it was discrimination to require the women to live in the mental health hospital when they did not need to.

Why Does the Olmstead Case Matter to Nebraska?

Nebraska does not have an Olmstead plan to integrate individuals with disabilities from congregated and isolated settings to more integrated and community-based settings.

Why does Nebraska need an Olmstead Plan?

The Americans with Disabilities Act (ADA) was passed by a bipartisan Congress in 1990, to prevent and eliminate discrimination of people with disabilities. The ADA forbids state or local governments or agencies from discriminating against a person because of his or her disability. In Olmstead, the Supreme Court interpreted the ADA to mean that unnecessary segregation of people with disabilities is discrimination under the ADA. This has been expanded to apply when states fail to provide community-based services or find placements for individuals, in the most integrated setting appropriate to the person’s needs.

To comply with the ADA, Nebraska must create an effective plan to assist individuals with disabilities to live and work in more integrated community settings.

Do other States have Olmstead Plans?

Yes. Every state must comply with the federal ADA law. Some states have voluntarily created Olmstead plans. Some states, however, have been investigated by the Department of Justice and have been required to create Olmstead plans. The DOJ found these states relied too heavily on congregated and isolated housing for individuals with disabilities. No state is immune to litigation. Nebraska is at risk of being sued because the state has not done enough to support community integration of people with disabilities. A first step in the right direction is to develop an Olmstead plan.

The PRISM Project is sponsored by the Arc of Omaha at Ollie Webb Center, Inc., with assistance from the Nebraska Department of Education.
A good Olmstead plan has concrete actions steps in varied areas to achieve the promise of the ADA and provide individuals with options to live and work in the least restrictive, most integrated settings possible. It must be more than just a “vague assurance” that future options will be available. It cannot merely describe a state’s history of increasing funding for community services and decreasing the population in institutions. The chart below highlights differences between characteristics in areas that cause individuals with disabilities to be isolated and segregated from the community and what full integration under an effective Olmstead plan can look like.

<table>
<thead>
<tr>
<th>Area</th>
<th>Segregated Characteristics</th>
<th>Integrated Characteristics</th>
</tr>
</thead>
<tbody>
<tr>
<td>Housing</td>
<td>Homes populated with only or primarily individuals with disabilities. This includes state funding of assisted living facilities and mental health centers.</td>
<td>Homes located in places where people without disabilities live.</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Employment</td>
<td>Jobs including sheltered workshops and day treatment programs that employ primarily individuals with disabilities.</td>
<td>Jobs that offer competitive wages and are based on the person’s interests.</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Transportation</td>
<td>Transportation that is regimented. Trips must be planned in advance and may include multiple people in each trip.</td>
<td>Transportation is accessible, available, efficient, and reliable to individuals with and without disabilities.</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Education</td>
<td>Receiving educational services in rooms only with students with disabilities.</td>
<td>Receiving educational services with supports in the same classroom as students without disabilities.</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Individual Choice</td>
<td>Schedules set by someone else, no food or dining choices, lack of privacy, no choice in who to interact with/share a room with.</td>
<td>The person decides when, where, how, and with whom to do things, what to eat, where to live, and with whom to live.</td>
</tr>
</tbody>
</table>

What is clear from reviewing the table is that one area of life that has segregated characteristics can affect other areas. For example, segregated transportation often acts as a barrier for those with disabilities to choose to interact with others and discourages competitive employment. Because no transportation options are available, someone in a segregated environment cannot get to work, cannot save money, cannot live on his or her own—cannot have choice. This is why an Olmstead plan must span across various areas and have concrete steps to integrate individuals with disabilities.
PASS THE ABLE AGE ADJUSTMENT ACT IN THIS CONGRESS!

Arc of the United States Oct. 3, 2018

ABLE accounts are helping people with disabilities across the country save money without jeopardizing their benefits, but there are more than 6 million people with disabilities who are not eligible to take advantage of this important savings tool because they acquired a disability after age 25. At the same time, the pool of potential ABLE account holders should be expanded to strengthen the market for state ABLE programs.

The Arc, along with nearly 160 other organizations from across the country, believes that ABLE should be expanded to include more people with disabilities, and has signed onto a letter urging Congress to pass this bill this session.

Beyond the fairness/equity argument for increasing the age of onset, it has now become a financial imperative to pass the ABLE Age Adjustment Act. There are currently thirty-nine states with ABLE programs, yet data collected by the National Association of State Treasurers (NAST) shows that the number of ABLE accounts being opened is much lower than anticipated. The long-term sustainability, availability, and affordability of some ABLE programs for individuals with disabilities are in doubt without this expansion of eligibility (NAST Sustainability Report).

TAKE ACTION

Urge your Senators and Representative to support people with disabilities and their families by cosponsoring the bipartisan ABLE Age Adjustment Act (S. 817/HR 1874).

Please take a few minutes to call or email your legislators to ask them to support the ABLE Age Adjustment Act (S.817/HR 1874), which would amend Section 529A(e) of the Internal Revenue Code to increase the eligibility for Achieving a Better Life Experience (ABLE) accounts for onset of disability from prior to age 26 to prior to age 46. Together we can advocate to #ExpandABLE and pass the #ABLEAgeAdjustment Act.

ADDITIONAL INFORMATION

For more information about ABLE accounts, please visit the ABLE National Resource Center at www.ablenrc.org.
Next Chapter Book Club Needs Volunteer Facilitators!

“After taking some time to consider whether I might do a good job of it, I signed on. It’s one of the best decisions I’ve ever made. The good cheer and affection that go around the table as we read and talk are pure sunshine.”

Laurie Abramson, Volunteer Club Facilitator, New York City

Help needed at these locations:
• Tuesday Med. Center Area
• Wednesday 180th & Center
• Wednesday Med. Center Area
• Thursday 125th & Center

Wanted: Adults interested in a rewarding experience enhancing the lives of adults with intellectual and developmental disabilities. Make a difference in their lives by meeting once a week for an hour with a small group at a local coffee shop to read and discuss a good book. Book club participants will enjoy social connections often missing in their lives and the delight of expanding their literacy. Volunteer Facilitators will be provided with CPR, First Aid and Facilitator training.

Who can facilitate Next Chapter Book Club meetings?

Volunteers are the lifeblood of Next Chapter Book Club. While Program Coordinators launch and manage our network of clubs, Facilitators devote one hour each week guiding the actual meetings. Facilitators come from all walks and stages of life and include students, family members of individuals with disabilities, and retirees looking for an opportunity to make a difference.

What does a Facilitator do?

Each club has two-three Facilitators. They guide the members in making book selections, encourage conversation, assist with reading and act as mentors in the club. They are knowledgeable about our Standards of Practice and have learned strategies for engaging readers of all levels, including those who are emerging readers.

For more information about becoming a Next Chapter Book Club Facilitator, please contact Denise Gehringer, Program Coordinator dgehringer@olliewebbinc.org or 402-345-5220 x 33.
The Ultimate Life Program is the place to be for fun and friends!

The Ultimate Life Program is a fee-based recreation program for adults with intellectual and developmental disabilities 18 years and older. This program offers opportunities for adults to participate in small, planned group activities or one-on-one outings of their choice in the community. Trained companions accompany participants. Transportation to and from the activities is part of the program.

APPLY NOW! Registration fee $30.

IN THE SPOTLIGHT!

Welcoming John Marcucci
Vocational Education Services Manager

John Marcucci joined Ollie Webb Center, Inc.’s (OWCI) leadership team as the Vocational Education Services Manager in September 2018.

Prior to coming to OWCI, John worked for several years with the Nebraska Department of Education, Office of Special Education assisting school districts, Educational Service Units, and families. In this role John was responsible for revising fiscal monitoring processes, creating new policies and procedures for federal programs, assisting districts in creating targeted improvement plans, reviewing IEP’s for compliance with Rule 51 with an emphasis on transition planning, and mediating disputes between families and districts. Earlier in John’s career he served as Acting Principal, Head Teacher, Senior Account Manager, and Social Services Worker.

John earned his Master’s degree in Educational Administration and Supervision from the University of Nebraska at Omaha as well as a Bachelor of Arts degree from the University of Nebraska at Kearney. John was born and raised in Rhode Island and has lived in Kennard, Nebraska for over twenty years with his wife and children. John shared that, “It has been my pleasure to work with, and learn from, many wise and dedicated professionals at both the state and district level. I’m looking forward to this next step in my career."

Coming soon is information for the upcoming winter semester starting on January 2, 2019. Please stay tuned!
Ollie Webb Center Inc.’s The Art of Imagination program is proud to present an exciting theatrical production, October 25 through 28, on the beautiful historic stage of the Scottish Rite Masonic Center at 20th and Douglas Streets in downtown Omaha. This production is an adaptation of an Irish folk tale called The White Gander and features an inclusive cast of adults with intellectual and developmental disabilities working side-by-side with local Omaha theatre and music professionals.

This magical tale is perfect for the Halloween season and includes drama, music, dance, puppetry, pantomime, live sound effects and video production. Ollie Webb Center, Inc. continuing education students, in collaboration with local theatre artists and instructors, have been essential in the creation of all elements of this production, including the set, props, costumes, video segments, and script. Students will also be involved as stage crew and in the public promotion of the production. This is the culmination of a decade of theatre production by The Art of Imagination in partnership with local Omaha arts and theatre programs.

Show times are 7:00 pm on the 25th through the 27th and 6:00 pm on the 29th. Tickets are $10 and can be purchased through this link: https://www.eventbrite.com/e/the-white-gander-tickets-50691380283?aff=ebdssbdestsearch.
